MEMORIS

1958

BROADWAY HIGH SCHOOL

BROADWAY, VIRGINIA

WITH BRAVE HEARTS WE MARCH TOGETHER . . .
WITH NEW FAITH WE GREET
EACH SUN . . .

HE GAVE YOU A SONG TO SING
YOUR WHOLE LIFE THROUGH. . .

As you are about to look through this edition of MEMORIES, we would have you pause, and in your own best way, pay silent respect to the man who gave you your school song — the theme for this book.

Mr. J. K. Reubush, whose music is immortal, wrote “Broadway High,” and whenever you sing it, may you revere the man who was able to express in words and music your feeling for this school.

THE STAFF

BROADWAY HIGH

Broadway High is ever ready, to obey each noble call.
And in eager faithful service, lends a helping hand to all.
In each duty undertaken it will greatest pleasure find,
Marching on to high endeavor it will never lag behind.

Broadway High is always aiming at some service good and true
Deeds of helpfulness to render with a will to dare and do.
Thus it strives with earnest effort for the goals yet unattained
Marching on and upward ever till each cherished goal is gained

Chorus

With brave hearts we march together
With new faith we greet each sun.
Willing hands and best endeavor
Leaving no set task undone.

Willing hands and best endeavor

And In Eager Faithful Service, Lends A Helping Hand To All

FIRST TO ARRIVE

J. FRANK HILLYARD, Principal

Dear Mr. Hillyard,

As we of the Senior Class of nineteen hundred fifty-eight prepare to leave our high school days and friends, we pause to say "Thank you" for the many things you and our teachers have done for us to make our high school days pleasant ones.

We realize as we go out into the world on our own that the many things we have accomplished will linger with us in our high school "Memories." We have achieved a goal for which we have long been working — graduation.

It is then, with these words we wish to express our appreciation to you, our principal, for guiding us through these years at Broadway High School.

A black and white photograph of a woman standing behind a counter in a shop. She is wearing a light-colored, long-sleeved top with a dark collar. The counter is cluttered with various items, including boxes and small objects. In the background, there are shelves with more items, including a framed picture or poster on the right. The lighting is somewhat dim, and the overall quality is grainy, typical of older newspaper photos.

CLASSTIME

Leaving no set task undone.

HOMEROOM

Every pupil reported to his homeroom each morning. . .

If he had no activity, he used
this time for study. . .

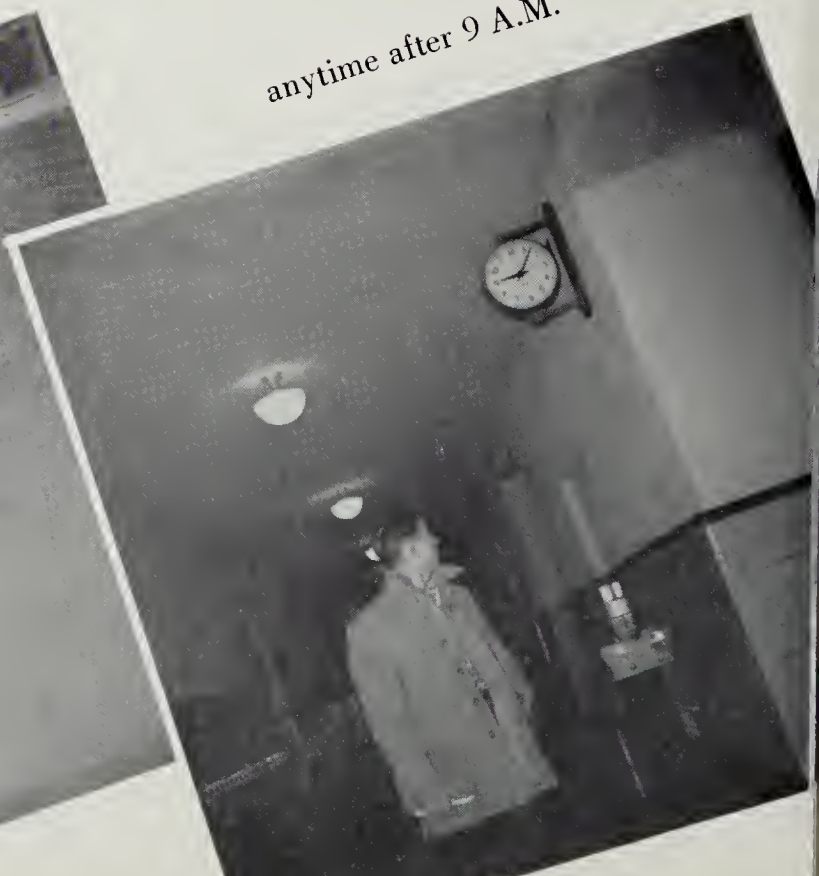

TARDINESS

A pupil was tardy

anytime after 9 A.M.

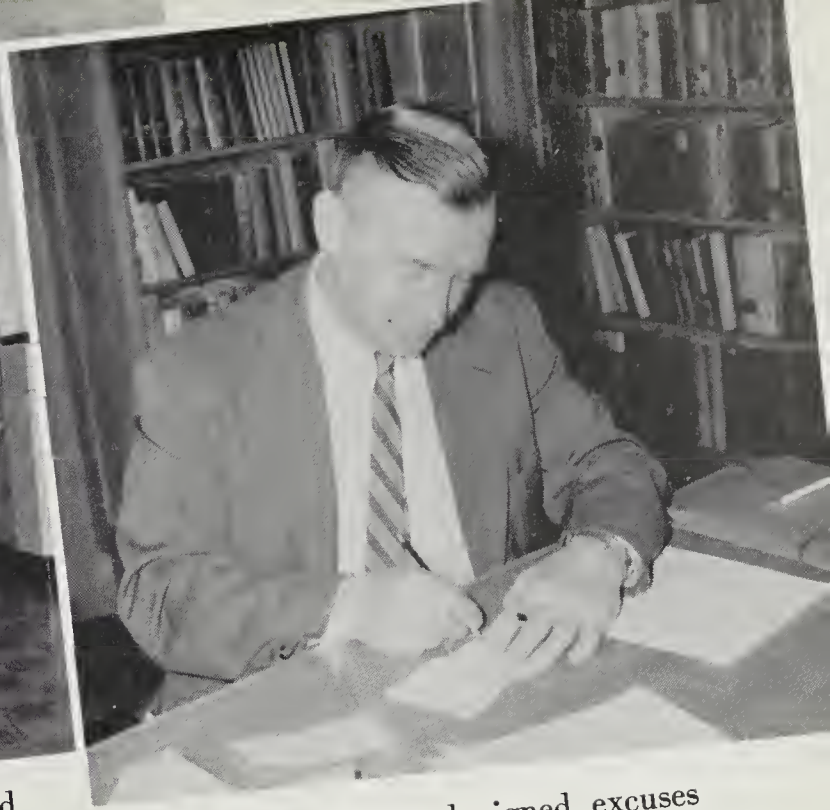

On the first day of the school year. . .

Attendance was labeled good, creditable, or poor

Mr. Hillyard signed excuses

Between each period a pupil is allowed five minutes . . .

They went to classes varying from physics to industrial arts

TEXTBOOKS

were issued at school

to pupils

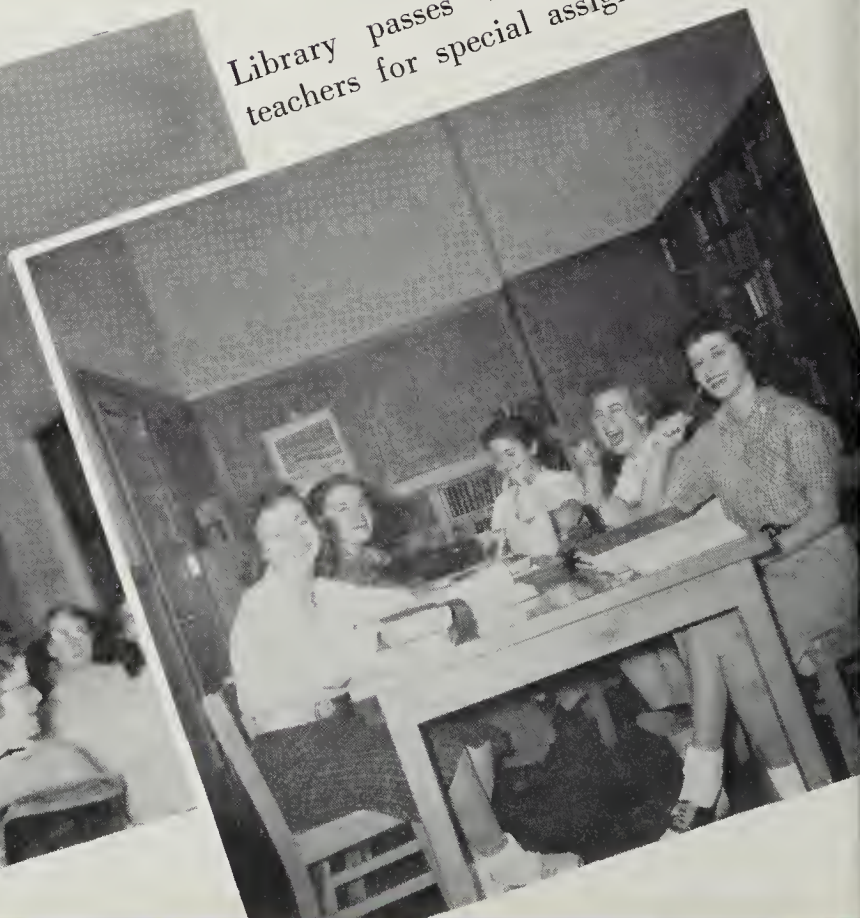

PASSES

Corridor passes were carried by pupils after 9:10 A.M.

Library passes were issued by teachers for special assignments.

IF YOU RODE A BUS-

Eighteen buses were needed to transport us. Pupils were expected to maintain good order on the bus and were under the supervision of the bus driver.

IF YOU DROVE A CAR-

If the driver of a car wanted to haul pupils other than the members of his family, he had to get the approval of his parents and of the principal.

School Accident Insurance was available. . .

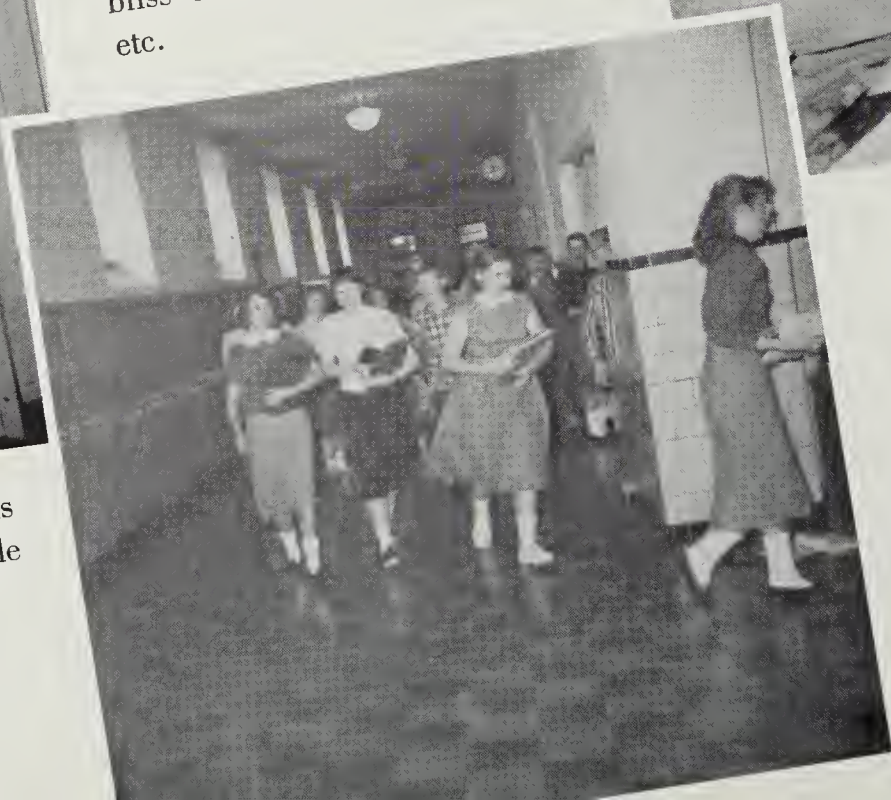

Guidance involved teachers helping the pupil understand himself.

Lockers were provided for pupils — each locker provided ample space for books and wraps.

Good hall conduct meant walking, no running, especially to the cafeteria; hasty conversations; the bliss of leaning on the radiators; etc.

The Clinic Room was used by sick pupils and sleepy pupils who usually recovered by lunch time or 3:05 P.M.

A public pay telephone was located. . .

Yea! ! Broadway!

On Your Graduation
No more running down the halls
To be on time for class
No more burning midnight oil
And wondering, "Will I pass?"
No more writing long reports
Or giving recitations
For now you are a graduate—
